

ANNOUNCEMENT 2006

21/12/06	Voting rights and capital	In conformity with the Transparency Directive's transitional provision 6 we would like to notify the market of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">* Lo-Q plc's capital consists of 14,765,837 ordinary shares with voting rights.* Lo-Q plc does not hold any ordinary shares in Treasury. Therefore, the total number of voting rights in Lo-Q plc is 14,765,837. The above figure (14,765,837) may be used by shareholders as the denominator for the calculations by which they will determine if they are required to notify their interest in, or a change to their interest in, Lo-Q plc under the FSA's Disclosure and Transparency Rules.
14/12/06	Trading statement	Trading Update With the season over and the majority of the parks in which the Company operates now being closed for the winter, the board of Lo-Q (the "Board") would like to provide an update on the progress made by the Company this year. The Company is pleased to announce that it has had a very successful season in the theme parks in which it operates with Q-bots selling well. This is attributable to the performance of the US team, led by Steve Drake, supported by a product that continues to have a remarkable quality record. The Q-bot rental revenue to date has performed ahead of management expectations. The Company also announces that it has concluded negotiations with Palmtop Productions Inc. ("Palmtop"), the owners of a theme park line management patent based on hand-held personal organisers. Whilst it was alleged that Lo-Q has been contravening their patent, the Company's lawyers and specialist patent attorneys believe this not to be the case. As a result it had been the view of the Board that this claim could be successfully defended. After weighing the balance of risk present in any USA patent law case, the Company made the decision to pursue an out of court agreement to settle the case expediently. The Company recognises that this has the advantage of releasing a significant amount of management time and avoids the potential costs if any defence case were to become protracted. The initial settlement payable to Palmtop is for US$900,000. Lo-Q is also required to make additional annual payments for the years 2007, 2008 and 2009. The company expects its resulting costs in meeting these three additional obligations to be in the region of $70,000 in each of these years. After these payments the company will have fulfilled its requirements under the settlement. The Board are confident that these exceptional costs can be absorbed by the cash flows from the business from the current and following financial years. The Company's normalised profit before tax for the year ended 31 December 2006 is expected to be in line with market expectations. However, with the inclusion of both legal and settlement costs, which will be included as exceptional items in this years accounts of approximately £600,000, the Company will report a loss of approximately £0.3 million for the year ended 31 December 2006.

24/11/06	Six Flags Agreement	Lo-Q plc ("Lo-Q" or the "Company") today announces that it has finalised a new three year agreement for the use of the Lo-Q Guest Services System in the Six Flags Inc (Six Flags) chain. This agreement covers the five parks already using the system and adds two further parks situated in Chicago and Montreal. A further responsibility given to Lo-Q under the agreement is to take over the in-park operation, including sales of Q-bots and other aspects of the system operation. The two new parks will use Lo-Q's revolutionary new VQ2020 system and the other parks will transition to its use before the start of the 2008 season. This expansion in Lo-Q's operation is in line with the Six Flags CEO's drive to improve the experience in his parks for families. Additionally the two companies plan to apply resources to the future development of the system, with the objective of ensuring Six Flags remains at the forefront of theme park line management and thereby giving their guests happier experiences. Leonard Sim, Managing Director of Lo-Q commented: "This agreement from Six Flags is excellent news for our company especially because the decision to expand came from the new Six Flags senior management team. They have been extremely busy examining all aspects of their business to ensure they meet their goal of repositioning their parks to become successful family oriented destinations
03/11/06	Lo-Q Plc announces expanded agreement with Six Flags	Lo-Q plc ("Lo-Q" or the "Company") today announces that Six Flags has agreed that, upon execution of a mutually agreed-upon contract, it will extend the use of the Lo-Q Guest Services System to an additional two Six Flags theme parks. This would bring to seven the total of Six Flags parks to which Lo-Q provides services; additionally, Lo-Q would have responsibility for the operation and sales of the Q-bots in all those parks. The two additional parks would implement Lo-Q's new VQ2020 system, which brings greater ease of use for guests and simpler installation in parks; the other parks will transition to use of the VQ2020 system over time. Leonard Sim, Managing Director of Lo-Q commented: "This extension, if executed, would be good news for our company. The excellent work done by Steve Drake and his operations team is one factor leading to this large expansion of our operational responsibilities, a challenge we are happy to accept. Another factor was the imminent availability of the VQ2020 system with its revolutionary features and cost cutting architecture. Our development team have done an outstanding job in bringing this product to fruition."
